

Page Turners

September 2018

Next Meeting: Tuesday, October 9th at 1pm at the Senior Center

Fiction:

If You Leave Me by Crystal Hana Kim

A love story set during the Korean War, with a strong female protagonist

Leave No Trace by Mindy Mejia

A dark and tense thriller set in the Minnesota wilderness

Where the Crawdads Sing by Delia Owens

A coming-of-age tale and murder mystery, for fans of Barbara Kingsolver

Feared by Lisa Scottoline

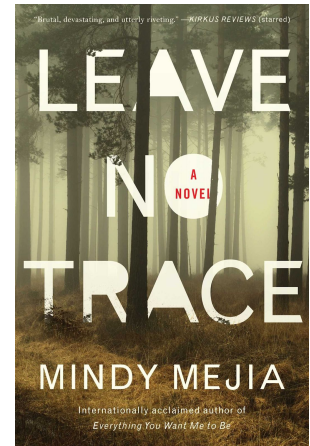

The popular author returns with her latest in the Rosato & DiNunzio series

Pieces of Her by Karin Slaughter

A roller coaster ride of a thriller... buckle up!

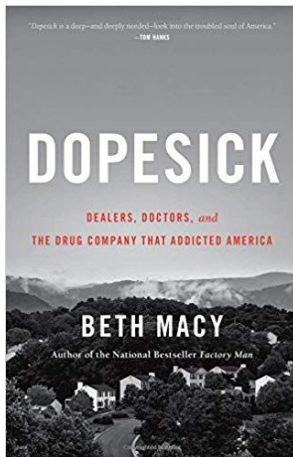

Clock Dance by Anne Tyler

“An entertaining, heartwarming story about second chances and the real meaning of family” - Greensboro News and Record (NC)

Nonfiction:

Tailspin: The People and Forces Behind America's Fifty-Year Fall--and Those Fighting to Reverse It by Steven Brill (306.097 Brill)
A lawyer/journalist on America's "failing" institutions and possible solutions

Dopesick: Dealers, Doctors, and the Drug Company that Addicted America by Beth Macy (362.29)

A look at the opioid crisis -- its origins and its victims' stories

Calypso by David Sedaris (814.54)

Sedaris's latest collection of essays... expect dark humor and lots of laughter

Indianapolis: The True Story of the Worst Sea Disaster in U.S. Naval History by Lynn Vincent and Sara Vladic (940.5426)

For fans of naval history... a detailed account of a sunken Navy ship and its crew

Fear: Trump in the White House by Bob Woodward (973.33)

The "it" book right now, from the author of All the President's Men

Marilyn Monroe: The Private Life of a Public Icon by Charles Casillo (B Monroe)

A new glimpse at an icon of her time, "a living, breathing, complex woman... brilliant yet flawed"